Subject 1115 agent

On June 6, 1958, Mr. ALEKSANDRAS LILEIKIS, 18 Fairbanks Street, Worcester, Massachusetts, advised that he was a clerk in the police department at Kaunas, Lithuania, from 1927 to 1936, Chief Assistant Police Officer at Mariampole, Lithuania from 1936 to 1939, and Assistant and Inspector at the police department in Vilnas, Lithuania, from 1939 to 1940.

He stated that from about 1930 to 1940 the subject was the Assistant to the Chief of Police in Kaunas, Lithuania, and during this period he was acquainted with the subject.

LILEIKIS stated that during this period, 1930 to 1940, he respected the subject as a loyal police officer and never knew him to be either pro-Soviet or pro-German.

He said that early in 1940 the Soviet Government assumed control of Lithuania and he, LILEIKIS, left for Germany and did not return until August, 1941. LILEIKIS advised that from August, 1941, to 1944, he was the area Chief of Kaunas.

LILEIKIS advised that during the period from early 1940 to August, 1941, he was in Germany; therefore, he did not have any direct information concerning the subject.

He said that when the Soviets assumed control in 1940 there were rumors that the subject stayed in Kaunas and became some type of area chief employed by the Soviets.

He also heard that the subject was then arrested by the Lithuanian Government and then released by the Germans. LILEIKIS advised that there were rumors to the effect that the subject was employed by the Soviets or the Russians; however, he did not have any first hand knowledge of this information.

LILEIKIS said he was in Germany at that time; therefore, his information was strictly hearsay.
